

How
CHILD-FRIENDLY
is your faith
community?

Now there's a new curriculum that helps religious organizations talk about a very important topic:

meeting children's emotional, physical,
and spiritual needs

All faith communities strive to nurture children and keep them safe. And yet many wonder whether they could be doing more. The Child-Friendly Faith Project's Designation Program is a unique curriculum that helps faith communities talk about these issues in a private and safe environment. What's more, participating organizations are designated as Charter Members of the Child-Friendly Faith Project!
